

Manning Fulton represented me when I took over the company in 1992, and we've worked together ever since. These lawyers are constantly aware of what a client needs—their response is instantaneous. No firm can compete with them.

DIANE LOCKE
President

CONTAINER SYSTEMS, INC.

Container Systems has more than doubled in size in the last decade, expanding its geographic reach and product lines. As one of the region's largest manufacturers of shipping containers and boxes, Diane Locke and her executive team face the challenges of any rapidly growing enterprise.

Manning Fulton has represented the company and its leaders on a broad range of issues, large and small: tax and estate planning, employment contracts, disputes with customers and collection matters, and real estate transactions. As Container Systems has grown, so has the strength of Manning Fulton's relationship with the company.

We're proud to be Diane Locke's outside legal team.
